University, Mississippi

October 8, 1962.

Dear Mr. Meredith,

As I have not seen you on the campus, I am sending this note to tell you how very much your courage and willingness to accept so much abuse are appreciated. Nobody else can fully know the sacrifices you have made for the cause of justice and fair treatment of all Americans.

I do trust that in your months of study here you may find some pleasure. All Americans, white and negro, owe you much for being willing to stand firm in a position which shows to all the world clearly, the evils and injustice in Mississippi.

May God's blessing rest on you and on your family.

Yours sincerely,
M. M. de Maine.
